Professional Judge's Influence

Lay Judges under Bureaucratic Judge's Control

- “local daily newspapers pursue an overly anti-military agenda ...reporting with editorial outrage over ‘continuous’ victimization of the Okinawan people at the hands of the military”
- “We hope that career judges’ influence over lay judges will suffice to counter anti-foreign propaganda”
 - Lenient sentences for military personnel
 - Suspended sentences for teenage military felons

Optimum Deterrence & Prevention

- Saiban-in member in Okinawa
 - Sentence “serves as a deterrence”
- Presiding judge in a Saiban-in trial
 - “never ignore the effect of deterrence against similar crimes [in the future]”
- Lay adjudication introduces personalize sentiments & local sense of justice into deliberation
- Okinawa – sovereignty & political independence

CIA & Counter-CIA Activities

Irish Example

- Irish Republican Army (IRA) in 1919
 - Irish War of Independence 1919-1921
 - 1921 Anglo-Irish Treaty & Irish Free State

2009	224(34.2%)	62(18.8%)	27(23.2%)
2010	27(4.1%)	2(0.6%)	5(4.3%)
Total N available cables for each country:	5724	5736	1980

NOTE: Data retrieved from US State Department Cables published by the WikiLeaks Organization. Because 2010 cables were only published up until the month of February, 2010 most likely contains an incomplete collection of relevant cables. Note: there are document overlaps with totals in Table 1, given that many cables will contain both phrases given their close topical proximity.

¶1. (C) SUMMARY AND ACTION REQUEST: Okinawa's Prefectural Governor is planning to visit Washington D.C. between January 7-11 and again in May or June of 2009 to seek meetings with USG officials. He intends to ask for changes to bilaterally-agreed base realignment plans for Okinawa, the return of three U.S. force training ranges located within the prefecture of Okinawa, and possibly revisions to the Status of Forces Agreement (SOFA). The USG position is to reject such requests. We ask that any office that is approached with a request to receive Governor Nakaïma coordinate its response with Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for Asian and Pacific Affairs David Sedney in order to maintain a unified USG response and to prevent forum shopping by the Governor. END SUMMARY AND ACTION REQUEST.

¶2. (C) On December 5, Okinawa Prefectural Governor Hirokazu Nakaïma informed visiting Senator Daniel Inouye that he now intends to travel to Washington between January 7-11. The Governor had postponed an earlier plan to travel to Washington last September (reftel B). The Governor indicated that he will be seeking meetings with USG officials, despite the difficulty
