Professor Jaclyn Kelley-Widmer is leading a group of Cornell Law students and alumni on a trip to Dilley, Texas, to volunteer with the CARA Pro Bono Project. (Please check out the link to learn more.) Participants will work principally with women and children seeking asylum and who are detained at the largest immigrant family detention center, the South Texas Family Residential Center (STFRC) in Dilley, Texas, approximately 80 minutes southwest of San Antonio. Because of the nature of the client base, roughly half of the students attending must be fluent in Spanish. This trip is open to 3-4 total students.

Students must apply for funding for their travel expenses through Engaged Cornell by October 10, 2018, or fund their own travel. Selected students will be given more information about how to apply for funding. Students will arrange their own travel.

Please fill out this application form and submit it by email to Gina Jackson at gj13@cornell.edu by September 23, 2018 at 9:00 p.m. Applicants will be notified of their selection by September 28.

Contact Prof. Kelley-Widmer at jak533@cornell.edu with questions.
